

Panel Cleaning Tips

The panels in the Courtney Bed can be cleaned in place. They can be laundered in a large washing machine. The process to remove and install the panels is available in a separate document should you want to perform that option.

Bleach should NOT be used when cleaning by hand or if using a washing machine.

To clean the panels we recommend an enzyme based cleaner for biological type stains. There are many of these available, like OdoBan or BioKleen. Resolve can also be used.

These products can be sprayed in and agitated with a brush and rinsed with warm water.

When doing a larger area we find it helpful to use a hand held upholstery cleaner.

It is also helpful if you have 2 people. If one person is on the other side of the panel and hold a towel with the first person cleans it can help prevent overspray.
